

Serving Others

Do not be a thermometer. Be a thermostat.

1. Thermometers take the temperature and then complain about it.
2. Thermostats take the temperature and then do something about it.

Source: Sunday morning, paraphrase

Statistics

Interpretation

If you torture the data long enough, it will say anything.

But what is the truth?

Source: a business concept